

Cluster Finder

Go to the Choices Explorer Cluster Finder page now or continue reading about this section: Career Clusters are groups of careers which share similar skills and interests. Students interested in specific careers can find related options that might interest them by using the clusters. For example, a student who is interested in becoming a physician, but who is not sure about the length of required education, can find similar careers by looking in the Health Science cluster.

The Cluster Finder is a short quiz that can help students narrow down a cluster to research. The Cluster Finder asks students questions about themselves, then gives them a list of clusters matching their criteria.

The Cluster Finder makes an excellent starting point for students who need help finding a general direction for their career exploration.
